The Key Positions of Huns Shaken

FIVE IMPORTANT BASSES OF GERMANY MENACED BY ALLIED ARMIES OF FOCH

LONDON, Aug. 15, 11 a. m.—The Germans in the Lassigny sector are retiring across the Dvette River, leaving only a screen of machine guns behind them, said a dispatch from a correspondent on the French front today.

Fighting for two days in their gas masks the French took all of Lassigny ridge, which dominates the German positions. As the French artillery is brought up the Germans will be forced back still farther.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—The British line has been advanced slightly east of Rainecourt in the district northwest of Chaulnes on the Picardy battle front, today's war office statement announces.

Since August 8 when the allied attack in Picardy began, the British and French have taken prisoners to the number of 30,344.

The Germans grip on five great positions has been severely shaken by the overnight successes of the allies between the Arras sector and the Oise River. Albert, north of the Somme River, to which the Germans have been tenaciously clinging since their capture of it in their March drive, is today seriously menaced by the retirement over a five-mile front between Beaumont Hamel and Bucquoy.

Farther south the French continue the steady advance on Bray, Chaulnes, Roye and Lassigny.

The splendid French success in the Oise Valley, resulting in the capture of Ribecourt from the Germans is imperilling the German line on both the western and eastern sides of the Oise and has enabled General Humbert's army to approach within five miles of the German base at Noyon.

In spite of stubborn German resistance and the difficult nature of the terrain, the French have pushed their progress between the Matz and Oise rivers, biting deeply into the barriers defending the German left flank.

PARIS, Aug. 15.—Cannonading between the Oise and Avre rivers (in the district where the French are driving on the German key position of Lassigny) was reported by the French war office today in the following communique:

"The night was marked by rather lively artillery activity between the Avre and Oise rivers.

YOUNG MEN WHO HAVE REACHED MAJORITY SINCE JUNE 5TH CALLED TO COLORS

Young men who have reached their majority since the draft registration of June 5th are called upon by the war department to appear before the various exemption boards of the nation on the 24th of the present month, a week from this coming Saturday and register their names, in accordance with the conscription law. The information was given out in the press in a dispatch from the war department yesterday that the registration would take place on the 24th, and that date is confirmed today by a dispatch received by the local exemption board from headquarters in Washington.

In accordance with the plans laid down in the telegram, all men who have become twenty-one since the 5th day of last June must appear at the headquarters of the local exemption board for the purpose of registration. The office of the board is situated in this city next door to the postoffice on Sixth street and a staff of clerks will be on hand at the appointed time and place to attend to the matter for the registrants.

Only an approximate estimate can be placed on the number of prospective registrants in this district, which comprises all that portion of the county from Oleum to the county line, taking in Rodeo, Hercules, Pinole, Giant, San Pablo, Richmond and El Cerrito, and of course, all adjacent territory. The members of the exemption board do not believe there are over 25 men who will be subject to this latest order of the war department, although it is possible that there will be far more than that number, possibly as many as fifty.

According to the orders of the war department these men must appear on the date above named to register and it is expected that throughout the nation there will be fully 150,000 who will be eligible and who will be called at once to meet the demands for overseas service.

M'NAMARA IS MAKING BIG SUCCESS IN CAMPAIGN

The campaign that John J. McNamara is making for the office of sheriff is gaining strength every day, and every indication is pointing to his nomination for the office to which he aspires, at the primary on the 27th of this month.

That McNamara is fitted for the duties of the office no one denies, he is a man of wide business experience, and will be able to conduct the sheriff's office on a business like basis.

McNamara is making his fight single handed. He has no alliance with any other candidate, and his method of soliciting support is meeting with encouragement everywhere he goes.

He has been going into every nook of the county, and today there are men who have voluntarily organized themselves into McNamara workers, who are making it their business to see that every voter is called upon, and the issues of the fight explained to them.

For many years McNamara has been a trustee of the town of Martines, and has also served for two terms as mayor of the city. The fact that he has been re-elected term after term by the people of the city in which he resides shows the esteem in which he is held.

Mr. McNamara is engaged in the butcher business, and is also president of the Martinez and Benicia Ferry Transportation company.

In voting for McNamara, remember, that you are giving your vote to a man who will see that the laws of the state are impartially enforced.

POLITICS WAS CAUSE OF ROW BETWEEN 2 OFFICIALS

MARTINEZ, Aug. 15.—The first physical mixup over political matters occurred this morning in this city between Deputy Sheriff I. B. Soluturi and Tax Collector Martin Joost, and while neither of the combatants were greatly injured, the net result of the encounter was the resignation of Soluturi from his office as deputy sheriff under Sheriff Veale and considerable bad blood engendered.

The trouble is said to have arisen over a jesting remark of Soluturi to Joost about the latter voting for Veale and an inference that Joost was not 100 per cent American. Later the men met and Joost asked Soluturi what he meant by the remark about 100 per cent American and the deputy's reply prompted Joost to strike him. Soluturi then drew his club and struck Joost two or three times on the shoulder and arm, which did not greatly injure him, however.

In a statement to the press shortly after the incident Soluturi said that the row had no particular political significance, but was of a purely personal nature. Soluturi immediately tendered Sheriff Veale his resignation as a deputy in his office and surrendered all property in his possession belonging to the county and the sheriff's office.

BODY OF MAN WAS FOUND HANGING TO A TREE

The suicide by hanging of a man supposed to be A. G. Bradley, of Sacramento, took place some time last night on the Rumrill ranch near San Pablo. His body was found by Mrs. Rumrill, sister-in-law of Mrs. W. T. Helms of this city, while she was going from her home to a Red Cross meeting in San

6-CENT STREET CAR FARES GO INTO EFFECT ON TRACTION LINES HERE

Six cent street car fares for Richmond, Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Piedmont, Emeryville and San Leandro were ordered yesterday by the State Railroad Commission when it granted the application of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways for an increase in fares over all its traction divisions. Transfer privileges are included.

The date of increasing the fares will be set today after a meeting of the directors of the traction system, which has twenty days in which to inaugurate the increases ordered.

The increase was allowed on a showing that because of the increased cost of materials, labor and other operating expenses the companies were not on a remunerative basis under the 5 cent fares. The falling off in short hauls was also cited as a reason for decreased revenues.

The company operates 360 cars over 201 miles of road and carried 70,000,000 passengers last year. It was shown that recently the daily credit balance of the system after all operating expenses were allowed would range around $200. The increase the company states will only take care of the increased cost of operation and leave little for funding obligations.

In handing down its decision the commission set the reproduction value of the system, less depreciation, at $9,805,233.86.

The commission also cut down the estimated expenditures for extensions and betterments from $2,-833,228.75, as estimated by the traction company, to $1,181,979.32. In ordering the curtailment of the proposed expenditures the commission stated that it did so in view of the necessity for economy on account of the war emergency.

Engineers of the commission made a thorough examination of the traction lines and the method of operation with the result that economies and curtailment of service have been recommended which will work an annual saving of $193,313.91. These curtailments include the readjustment of schedules, full use of the skip-stop plan; the use of one man cars on certain lines and the elimination of certain unprofitable lines.

M. MARCUS, President

U. S. PROGRAM FOR DEFEATING GERMANY TOLD BY GENERAL MARSH TODAY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Plans for beginning consideration in the Senate next Monday of the new man power bill extending the draft ages were blocked today by failure of a quorum to appear when Chairman Chamberlain of the military committee submitted the measure with a favorable report.

Senate leaders had telegraphed members to return from vacations.

Only forty-three senators answered to their names when the roll was called, six less than a quorum. There were twenty-two Republicans and twenty-one Democrats.

The Senate adjourned until Monday and the plan now is to begin consideration of the bill next Thursday, if possible.

Senator Chamberlain still hopes to pass the measure by Saturday of next week. He said a quorum seemed assured for Monday.

WASHINGTON, AUG. 15.—In reporting the administration man power bill extending draft ages today (Chairman Chamberlain disclosed to the Senate that General March had told the Military Committee it was up to the United States to put enough men in France to win the war on the west front, and had expressed the belief that 4,000,000 Americans under one commander could go through the German lines whenever they pleased.

The report also revealed that the new American war program calls for eighty divisions, or something over 3,000,000 men in France by June 30, next year, with eighteen more divisions in training at home then.

All of the men called for active service under the proposed new draft ages—18 to 45—General March told the committee, would be in France by next June.

Secretary Baker informed the committee, the report said, that the President's policy called for concentration of American forces on the western front, including Italy, and that "the theory of the fighting in the future is that we must force the issue and win on the western front."

ENLISTMENTS HALTED.

Immediate extension of the draft ages was declared by the army representatives to be imperative in order that the United States may throw its full strength in the struggle and win.

If the draft ages are fixed at from 18 to 45, General March said the system of volunteer enlistments in the United States army automatically disappears.

In his report Chairman Chamberlain quotes extensively from testimony before the committee by Secretary Baker, General March and Provost Marshal General Crowder.

"The United States government," General March is quoted as saying, "has been asked by her allies to embark upon a program so large that it was necessary very carefully to ascertain whether we can go through with it. One of the features of this enlarged program was providing men. The desire of the administration is to establish limits, both maximum and minimum, which will accomplish this program and at the same time disorganize the industries of the country as little as possible.

"The policy of the War Department is to put the maximum number of men in France with the idea of shortening the war. We found from figures furnished by the provost marshal general that we could embark on a program of eighty divisions in France by June 30, 1919, with eighteen divisions at home. These divisions consist roughly of 30,000 men to a division.

"After prolonged study of the available man power of the United States, the provost marshal general showed that it was necessary to drop to 18 years of age and to go to 45 in order to get the men to carry it through. All the men obtained under the proposed change in the draft law—approximately 2,-300,000—we expect to have in France by June 30, 1919."

YOUNG MEN BEST.

General March told the committee that he was unqualifiedly in favor of having the army composed of as many young men as possible. Young men between 18 and 20, he said, not only do not have many encumbrances, but they are better fit physically.

"The President," said General March, resuming his statement, "has

UP TO THE DRAFT BOARDS.

It is all up to the draft boards as to what class a man shall occupy in the draft or whether he shall go to war at all. Take it all in all, the work of the draft boards throughout the country has been considered fair and doing justice to all men. There has been some complaint from isolated cases, but after sifting down the work it was found that in most instances the party just did not see how he could go to war and fight for his country on account of him being needed by somebody or something at home.

Of course this war, like all other wars since the world began, is being fought by the youth of the land, and that is perhaps right. Young men make better soldiers than old men and then, too, the older men have families about them, are settled in their ways and it is hard for them to conform to the rigid rules of military discipline. They will have to come to it now, however, under the new draft law and they had just as well make up their minds to do their duty to their country, their family and their friends.

It will be the business of the draft boards to settle all the controversies which will arise and no doubt they will do it in a fair and impartial way. They will say who will be sent to the war and who shall stay at home, but there will be no use in trying to evade the inevitable. Everybody must work or fight and there will be no way out of it.

The stern exigencies of war do not consider individuals. A man said to the writer the other day, "Why, I have a vast amount of property here to look after, which cannot be left to other hands. My property interests will suffer irreparable injury. I just can't go to war, that is all there is to it." But he has another guess coming. He can and will go. His property interests and his individual loss are not considered. All that is taken into account is the service this man is able to perform for his country. His property interests are worth no more and will not be further considered than the property interests of the young boy who may own a fiddle or a dog which he cannot take along with him. The nation does not care a rap for a man's individual sacrifice, only so far as it may be of assistance to all the people in helping to win this war.

WORLD'S WAR MATERIAL.

The elevation of General Ferdinand Foch to a marshal of Franch is the French people's ready acknowledgment of a task well performed. France, more surely than any of the allied nations recognizes the tremendous importance of the defeat to the crown prince's drive toward Paris.

Premier Clemenceau, in presenting the name of General Foch to the council of ministers Tuesday, did not hesitate to concede the formidableness of the German offensive. He let it be known that Paris actually had been in the shadow of the enemy's hand, threatened, perhaps, more seriously than at any time since the first great drive of the German army in the autumn of 1914.

Almost as brief as Caesar's "I came, I saw, I overcame," is the premier's summing up of the three weeks terrific fighting in the Soissons-Rheims salient. He the outcome of that fighting is of infinitely greater moment to the world than was the famous expedition of the Roman general.

The honor bestowed upon General Foch is recognition by all the allied peoples of a great accomplishment. The reverses which the allies, under the direction of Foch, administered to the crown prince's army are almost as important to us as to France, and England and America join in the homage paid the French marshal.

On the same day that General Foch was recipient of the thanks of the French nation, honors were conferred on General Petain and General Pershing. The Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor bestowed upon the American commander-in-chief of the expeditionary forces is the highest within the power of France to give. The presentation of the Grand Cross to General Pershing is the most concrete manner in which the people of France could express their gratitude to the people of the United States for having taken up their share of the burden of war.

By some the bestowal of honors is decried as trumpery. But it is not the act itself in which is to be found the excuse for such exchanges between nations. It is in their significance.

OUR FIGHTING BOYS.

The terrible fighting now going on in the Soissons-Rheims salient, and along the Picardy battle front in France—in fact all along the Western line in France from the sea to the Vosges mountains has settled all American eyes on that section and the people of the nation will know more about the geography of that country before the boys get out of there than they have ever known before. But this is not the only place in the wrld where the fighting men of the United States are doing their part and where the olive drab uniform may be seen almost as often as in the United States. There are five Europeon countries where they are operating in force, namely, France, Germany, Russio, Belgium and Italy. They are also to be seen in the far East and will overrun the world, not for conquest but to spread the spirit of Democracy everywhere, that all men may be accorded justice and freedom.

This condition, better than anything else, reflects the responsibilities assumed by the United States when it entered the war for the protection of civilization. We are no longer an isolated country with the limited views of an isolated country.

In less than two years America has become a world power. We have been given (against our will, it must be admitted) an enlarged vision. The Philippines and Hawaii no longer constitute the only foreign soil in which we take a personal interest.

When the American millions return from Europe there will still remain a great number of ties to bind us to the people over there. Can there be anything to hold two countries closer together than the fact that the men of one have fought and died on the soil of the other?

The men who return are likewise bound to feel a sentiment akin to love for France. There will be memories which will last as long as they live, memories heightened by the blinding ashes of war.

NO CREDIT IS DUE.

T. D. Johnston, the present occupant of the district attorney's office, and now candidate for reelection, it is reported is complaining that everywhere he goes about the county he finds a great many people are against him, and is asking what is the matter—that he cannot understand it.

The general reply that he gets is "You ought to know why the voters are against you better than any one else."

"Any official compelled prac-

MONSTROUS IDEA IN GERMAN MIND

Treachery, Murder, Barbarity, Anything, Praiseworthy if for Prussia's Gain.

Abominable System That Must Be Overthrown If the World Is to Be Worth Living in, Regardless of the Cost.

This I have seen. I could not believe it unless I had seen it through and through. For several weeks I lived with it; I went all about it and back of it; inside and out of it was shown to me—until finally I came to realize that the incredible was true. It is monstrous, it is unthinkable, but it exists. It is the Prussian system.—F. C. Walcott.

At a conference of field men of the United States food administration held in Washington, F. C. Walcott pictured conditions as he had found them in the countries invaded by German arms. Mr. Walcott served with Mr. Hoover on the Belgium relief commission when this nation was attempting to feed the starving civilian population of Belgium, Poland and northern France. In his address he had pictured such conditions as he said he could not believe unless he had seen the situation through and through, and had lived with it for weeks. He showed these terrible conditions to be the result of deliberate plans on the part of official Germany, and in summing up he said:

"Such is the German mind as it was disclosed to me in several weeks' contact with officers of the staff. Treaties are scraps of paper, if they hinder German aims. Treachery is condoned and praised, if it falls in with German interest. Men, lands, countries are German prizes. Populations are to be destroyed or enslaved so Germany may gain. Women are Germany's prey, children are spoils of war. God gave Germany the Hohenzollern and together they are destined to rule Europe and, eventually, the world—thus reasons the kaiser.

"Coolly, deliberately, officers of the German staff, permeated by this monstrous philosophy, discuss the denationalization of peoples, the destruction of nations, the undoing of other civilizations, for Germany's account.

"In all the world such a thing has never been. The human mind has never conceived the like. Even among barbarians, the thing would be incredible. The mind can scarcely grasp the fact that these things are proposed and done by a modern government professedly a Christian government in the family of civilized nations.

"This system has got to be rooted out. If it takes everything in the world, if it takes everyone of us, this abomination must be overthrown. It must be ended or the world is not worth living in. No matter how long it takes, no matter how much it costs, we must endure to the end with agonized France, with imperiled Britain, with shattered Belgium, with shaken Russia.

"We must hope that Germany will have a new birth as Russia is being reborn. We must pray, as we fight against the evil that is in Germany, that the good which is in Germany may somehow prevail. We must trust that in the end a Germany really great with the strength of a wonderful race may find its place as one of the brotherhood of nations in the new world that is to be.

"The responsibility of success or failure rests now upon our shoulders; the eyes of the world are anxiously watching us. Are we going to be able to rise to the emergency, throw off our inefficiency, and prove that democracy is safe for the world?"

In the above statement Mr. Walcott has described a condition that must be changed if America, if the world, is to remain a "fit place to live in." And the only way by which this change can be effected is the defeat of German arms in this war. Nothing good, nothing but evil, can come out of Germany, so long as the German people are controlled by a military autocracy, and the German people cannot be made to realize this until this autocracy is crushed. The spirit of militarism that has made of the Germans a robber and a murder nation must be utterly crushed if the world is to remain free, and to accomplish this those of us who cannot fight in France must lend our support to our men who are fighting for us.

TO ALL PATRIOTIC CITIZENS

The following appeal to patriotism is issued by the Power Administrator appointed by the Railroad Commission of the State of California:—

Conserve Electricity

Patriotism demands that you save electricity for war industries.

Northern and Central California have a SERIOUS power shortage because of lack of rain during the past winter and the increased use of electricity by war industries.

These War Industries Must Have Power

There is not enough power for everybody at the present rate of consumption. It is up to you to save. Turn off lights whenever possible and use lower power lamps.

This is one other thing you can do in the great struggle.

"Some of those who attempted to make good government effective in this end of the county, by desiring to see the houses of prostitution and road houses closed, were rewarded for their action, by being arrested and an attempt made to send them to states prison, on a charge which the superior court decided had absolutely no foundation. As an instance, remember the case of Rev. Peterson."

Not One Chinese In Ten Thousand Has Constipation

except a few drug users, while about 90 per cent of the Americans suffer from this dread complaint. The FONG WAN HERB SPECIALTY gives the following explanation of this phenomenon. "When a Chinese is ill, he immediately consults a Herb Specialist and the cause is removed, but, when an American feels bad, the first thing he does is to take a PHYSIC. This may relieve him temporarily, but repeated doses of such drugs eventually paralyze the bowels. As the bowels then no longer move naturally, physic taking becomes a habit, the weakened bowels drag, and there is a heavy pressure of gas on the rectum. If the poor victim be a man, the physician will usually tell him that his trouble is piles; if a woman, that it is female trouble."

By drinking the Fong Wan harmless Chinese herbs, hundreds of Americans have not only been relieved of their stomach and bowel troubles, but have been made normal again. Their testimonials are on file.

Correct Lubrication for the "T"-Head Type Engine

The "T"-Head, illustrated here, is one of several types in popular use today. Engines of this type, like all internal combustion engines, require an oil that maintains its full lubricating qualities at cylinder heat, burns clean in the combustion chambers and goes out with exhaust. ZEROLENE fills these requirements perfectly, because it is correctly refined from selected California asphalt-base crude.

ZEROLENE is made in several consistencies to meet with scientific exactness the lubrication needs of all types of automobile engines. Get our "Correct Lubrication Chart" covering your car. At dealers everywhere and Standard Oil Service Stations.

Experts Say, "Zerolene Is Better"

Why are the majority of cars now lubricated with ZEROLENE? Because—
ZEROLENE does hold better compression, does give better protection to the moving parts, does deposit less carbon. And this is the testimony of the leading automobile distributors of the Coast.
They know from the records of their service department—and we know from exhaustive tests—that ZEROLENE, correctly refined from selected California asphalt-base crude, gives perfect lubrication with less wear and less carbon deposit.
ZEROLENE is the correct oil for all types of automobile engines. It is the correct oil for your automobile. Get our lubrication chart showing the correct consistency for your car.

SANTA FE SERVICE WILL BE ABANDONED ON SUNDAY

Next Sunday the Santa Fe ferry service will be discontinued from this city to San Francisco and passengers over the lines of that railroad whose destination is the big city across the bay will go to the Oakland Southern Pacific mole and there will be transferred on the ferries of that railroad. It is all in the interests of conservation. One railroad ferry system is considered sufficient to accommodate all who have occasion for this sort of service and it will be run under the head of the government.

It will make but little difference to the people of Richmond as to whether the Santa Fe runs a ferry system from this city to San Francisco or not. Not five per cent of our people have been in the habit of utilising that service even in normal times. Since the inauguration of the street car system and the rapid transit methods of automobile travel we have all been going to San Francisco by the way of Albany, Berkeley and Oakland.

According to the plans of the government, the passenger stations of Berkeley and Oakland on the Santa Fe are to be abandoned and there will be no more passenger trains run over the Oakland branch. Even the regular freight service over this branch will be taken off and the work done by switch engines in the future. The Oakland yard is simply a part and parcel of the Richmond yards and will be handled by the same men in the future.

All passenger trains over the Santa Fe will in the future go to Oakland over the tracks of the Southern Pacific. They will be transferred to the new connecting spur east of Tenth street and will go direct to the Oakland mole under the care of Santa Fe trainmen. After discharging their passengers and baggage and mail, they will return to this city. The passenger yards will be maintained here the same as in the past and the men will reside in this city. It will not in any manner have a tendency to remove any of our present population.

FORMER CASHIER TELLS OF TRIP TO THE ORIENT BY STEAMSHIP

Under date of July 19th, Arba Heald, former cashier of the First National Bank, writes the Record-Herald from "Somewhere in the Pacific Ocean," that he is still going Westward and that land is but two and one-half miles away, but it is straight down.

At the time of writing he expected to reach Japan in a few days, and according to the letter he must have reached the port of Kobe on the 24th of last month for the missive bears that date.

Mr. Heald writes that himself and wife enjoyed the trip immensely. On the trip over they saw a large number of sperm whales and he thinks the fishing along the route must be quite good, though he did not attempt to catch anything. He expected to reach his destination about the 4th or 5th of August.

Mr. Heald and his wife took passage on the steamship Venezuala, of the Pacific Mail line for the Orient. He is going to take a position upon his arrival in Shanghai in the American-Oriental bank of that city.

NORMA TALMAGE FILM FILLING BIG THEATRE

Plays whether made on the screen or on the roulette wheel are all the same to Norma Talmadge, starring at the Richmond Theatre in "De Luxe Annie." The Select star spent a few weeks at Palm Beach recently and tried her luck at the Casino; where, with the good fortune which invariably follows her lead, she almost broke the bank. Her amazing winnings attracted a throng of curious spectators who watched her plays with fascinated interest.

Miss Talmadge's second success came in the Red Cross lawn fete and auction, which was held at the resort while this popular star was vacationing there. She took her turn on the austioneer's chair along with other celebraties of the stage and screen, and her session with the gavel brought $15,000 for the Red Cross fund.

On returning to New York, Miss Talmadge set about filming "De Luxe Annie," her latest Select Picture which is being shown here and went on ahead full speed, permitting only one interruption. This occurred during the recent Third Liberty Loan campaign, when Norma Talmadge signed her name to a subscription for $200,000 worth of the bonds—another typical illustration of the large heartedness displayed by the petite star in every good cause.

THREE MILLION MEN.

finally announced that the American military policy from this time on is centered on the western front and we have declined to be diverted from that one thing. The War Department has now adopted this as a policy and it is the policy of the United States that the military program is to be centered in France.

"The purpose of America is to furnish enough man power to whip the Germans from now on."

BODY OF MAN FOUND.

Pablo. Mrs. Rumrill took a short cut to the town on a by-path and found the body hanging to a small tree, the feet almost touching the ground. She notified Officer J. E. Moltoza and that gentleman immediately telephoned the office of Coroner Bert Curry in this city who sent and had the body brought to the morgue.

The suicide of the man took place some time during last night, for the body was quite rigid when cut down by deputies from the coroner's office. In the pockets of the coat were found two Red Cross receipts dated at Sacramento—one for $2 and the other for $1. The first receipt bore the date of June 11th and the last one the date of July 6th, of the present year.

Officers who have been making inquiries regarding the man can obtain no information showing that he had been seen in San Pablo either yesterday or any other time. Neither have they been able to find anybody to identify the remains or give information regarding his previous place of residence, other than the information contained by the Red Cross receipts.

The body was poorly dressed in a dark suit of clothes. The man appears to be about forty-five years of age and very dark skinned, of unquestionable American birth. Coroner Curry has wired to Sacramento to ascertain the man's identity, if possible.
